Paying compliments to the facilitators they recalled interesting sessions, events and classes attended /not attended by them! An alumnus of the second batch 2008-10, Mr. Anirudh Shurpali mentioned that he is speechless and happy looking at the development of the campus and the growth of GBS from strength to strength. The alumni urged the current students to follow the guidance and suggestions given by their respective specialization experts and also keep abreast of the current trends and developments in their area of interest.

The students, staff and alumni present were served sumptuous lunch between 1.45 and 2.45pm. A panel discussion was conducted and moderated by Profs. Ramakant Kulkarni and M.N Manik post lunch. The topics covered were – going beyond the university syllabus, what are other areas GBS need to include to make the student industry ready and what are the various skills and competencies that would make one progress in his/her career. The discussion was very fruitful and brought out a gamut of opinions, issues, suggestions and observations from the nine alumni students participating in the discussion. The session was also aptly conducted by the moderators of discussion. Present students too were enriched by the thoughts and opinions shared by the participants. The session was followed by more fun games and around 4pm the curtain to the Alumni meet 2015 was drawn to make way for another event the Women's day celebration that is observed around the globe on the 8th March.
